

Protected areas

Benefits

Protected areas are a tool to meet various conservation goals and provide a multitude of benefits for local residents, the region, country and planet.

- Maintain wildlife
- Maintain natural landscapes
- Maintain ecological processes (carbon, water, soil)
- Bear witness to the change
- Provide recreational opportunities
- Represent opportunities for education
- Act as sites of scientific research.

